VOIP

OACYS VoicePlans

What Can VOIP Do For Me?

A military friend in Korea has parents who live in Florida. With a VOIP account they can call each other as often as they wish, talk for as long as they like, and for each it is only a local call.

Families scattered throughout the United States or other countries can do the same thing. For example, one family member with an OACYS VoicePlan account can add as many "local numbers" as they wish in other cities ... family callers in those cities then just dial a local number to reach their local relative. One remote number is included, and each additional number adds only a small extra fee.

Or, families can network with each other nebulously by adding their own OACYS VoicePlan accounts ... each can then call any other station and talk for as long as they wish, free of usage charges.

Businesses can of course connect their regional branch offices with VOIP. Or, local businesses who might wish to display a local number for a "virtual office" in San Francisco, New York, or London (etc) can easily do so, while all calls ring locally to the home office.

Unlike others, OCS VoicePlans provide true local-number VoIP service that can completely replace your old phone service. All plans include a full package of features that are normally considered extra options, like Call Waiting, Voice Mail, Caller ID, Call Return, Redial, Speed Dial, 3-Way Calling, Call Forwarding, Call Blocking, Do Not Disturb, and of course Emergency 911.

OCS VoicePlans are like having your own personal switchboard and answering service, all at no extra cost, plus unlimited long distance!

Did you know that OCS has been using VOIP in our main and home offices for nearly two years now? No one knows Voice-over-IP better! Full local service is expected in November 2005 ... call us for more information at 781-4123 or email CustomerService@ocsnet.net.

Security Systems With VOIP

Q: I understand that I can completely replace my normal local and long distance phone service with VOIP. But my security service uses my phone line to report alarms ... if I can't replace that will I still have to pay for normal phone service, just as a standby line for my alarm system?

A: OCS is working cooperatively with S.T.O.P. Alarm in Porterville to eliminate this last hurdle and allow you to truly replace your old phone service. S.T.O.P. Alarm has invested in new technology that can monitor your home or business security system over the OCS wireless network. This new method is so efficient that it can support even video surveillance cameras, which an old phone line cannot do.

The elimination of your old phone service will in most cases save more than the cost of basic VOIP service, without even considering the additional long distance savings.

Moving Tips

If you're buying or selling a home, or moving, or building a new home—don't leave Internet plans as an afterthought!

We frequently encounter situations where folks moving from larger cities assume that DSL or cable service will be available at their new home, which in rural areas is not usually the case. OCS Wireless serves many areas where high-speed service is otherwise unavailable, check with us first!

If you already have our service and are simply moving to a new home in the community, we can check your new location to make sure it has good wireless signal—if so it takes only a small reinstall charge to get you up and running. Or ask your buyers if they want to keep your old wireless service, and we'll leave the equipment and install new gear at your new home—and you'll get the referral credit!

Finally, when building a new home it can make sense to prewire for a home network. Again, please check with us first! In two recent cases contractors pulled the wrong kind of cable, which takes time and money to correct after the framing is covered up.

Special "mission impossible" cases are those where obstacles such as trees or buildings between the wireless tower and the customer site normally make wireless service impossible. OACYS can now use new technology to provide service in some cases, sending signal around or through the obstacles. Individual circumstances will vary and this plan may not be available from all towers. Our free site survey will determine whether 900 service may be feasible when standard 24 service is not.
